PARTS DELAY CLOSES MORE AUTO PLANTS

MEDIATORS STRIVE TO GET PEACE IN INDUSTRY

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—Two more General Motors plants were closed today while department of labor mediators strove to avert additional walkouts in the automobile industry.

A shortage of transmissions as a result of the strike in the Toledo plant of the Chevrolet Motor Co., caused the Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants in Janesville, Wis., today to follow the Cleveland Fisher Body plant in closing. Approximately 2,600 workers were affected at Janesville.

Pickets continued to patrol the Toledo plant, and the Chevrolet and Fisher plants at Cincinnati, where strikes are in progress. There were no disturbances.

Thomas J. Williams, conciliator at Toledo where the Chevrolet Motor Co. plant closed after a strike eight days ago, hurried here to confer with Edward F. McGrady, first assistant secretary of labor.

Await Dillon's Return

While only 16,500 of the approximately 300,000 automobile factory workers are striking or out of work because of factory closings owing to the strike, observers awaited the return from Washington of Francis J. Dillon, American Federation of Labor organizer, for an indication of whether the A. F. of L. intended to force a full test of its strength in the motor factories.

McGrady said he planned an early meeting with Dillon, who declared today that the A. F. of L. controlled the "three keys to the auto situation," and named them as plants making transmissions, carburetors, and ignition systems.

Interest centered tonight on Flint, Mich., where five General Motors plants employ 35,000 men. Louis Hart, Flint organizer for the A. F. of L., said a second mass meeting would be held there to consider an appeal of the Toledo strikers that all workers in General Motors workers walk out "until all plants have contracts."

Harlow H. Curtice, president of the Buick Motor Co., in Flint, continued his conferences with the executive council of the United Automobile Workers of America, an A. F. of L. affiliate.

The Buick plant employs 10,100 men, only 8.2 per cent of whom voted for A. F. of L. representatives in collective bargaining elections conducted by the president's automobile labor board. The A. F. of L. polled about the same proportion of the vote in other labor elections.

The A. F. of L. demands recognition of the unions through signing of contracts by the management calling for a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour, a general increase of five cents an hour and a 5 day week with 7½ hours' work daily.

W. S. Knudsen, executive vice-president of General Motors, said the corporation "cannot consider entering into a signed agreement to recognize the union's right to bargain and close the plant without any evidence of a verified list of its members."

MAY DAY QUIET, ONLY 4 DEATHS

Sporadic Bombings and Scrimmages Reported in Europe

BY ROGER D. GREENE
(Associated Pres Foreign Staff)

London, May 1 (AP)—Stern police surveillance in the capitals of Europe held the international labor day observance to comparatively peaceful demonstrations today.

Sporadic bombings and scrimmages between police and crowds took four lives but for the most part the meetings and demonstrations which labor stages on the once pastoral Maytime festival passed off quietly.

Moscow displayed her military might before Joseph Stalin, Russia's "man of steel," and Reichsfuerur Hitler exhorted to peace nearly a million of his people gathered in a gigantic demonstration at the Tempelhof Airdrome, Berlin.

Elsewhere, the day for the most part was one of festivities—free goulash in Vienna, quiet meetings in Paris, uneventful dances and concerts in Italy, a "fashion parade" of well-dressed working men in Stockholm, and jubilee preparations in England.

Moscow Is Noisy

The worst outbreak reported was that at Enina, in northeastern Bulgaria, where gendarmes attempting to break up a communist demonstration were said to have fired on the throng and to have drawn a return fire in which an officer was killed and several persons wounded.

Spain's May Day dawned on incidents related to the celebration in which a policeman died at Madrid and a youth at Barcelona. Another officer died after a scrimmage at Bagnolet, France.

The roll of drums, the roar of airplanes, the rumble of tanks and artillery caissons, and the tramps of vast hordes of armed men were heard in Moscow, where Stalin stood at Lenin's tomb in Red Square and reviewed the mighty Soviet fighting force as 700 planes droned over-

SENATE VOTES 2 MILLION FOR AGE PENSIONS

PAYMENT PROVIDED FOR PERSONS OVER 70

BY WILLIAM R. MULLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, May 1. (AP)—The senate passed and sent to the house today an old age pension bill carrying an annual appropriation of $2,000,000.

The bill provides for payment of pensions to persons 70 years or older who have an income of not more than $1 a day. After 1940 persons of 65 would be eligible for the pension. Pensions amounts would be dependent on revenues, and Senator Arthur E. Wood, Republican of Detroit, said the expected state appropriation would be evenly matched by federal grants. The house previously had voted for a $5,000,000 annual pension fund.

The senate spent the remainder of the day wrangling over the provisions of the Thatcher bill, appropriating $25,000,000 supplementary school aid, the fight centering about the amount of the appropriation and its allocation between metropolitan areas and villages and rural districts. Repeated attempts to reduce the amount to $20,200,000, the figure which Governor Fitzgerald has set as a maximum, failed.

Palmer Leads Fight

Senator Miller Dunckel, Republican, Three Rivers, offered a compromise figure of $21,800,000 but mustered only three votes for its support. Senator William Palmer, Democrat, Flint, who claimed the school district of his city is $400,000 in debt this year and may be able to operate only until May 15, led the battle for the full amount. Senator Wood introduced a substitute bill at the close of the session. It provides for the dumping of whatever supplementary school money the legislature appropriates into the primary school interest funds with distribution on a pupil census basis.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, director of research for the department of public instruction, declared if the school aid voted by the legislature were distributed on a census basis approximately 2,000 small school districts in Michigan would have more money than they could use. Senator D. Hale Brake, Republican of Stanton, led an attempt to raise the amount to be given pupils in smaller districts from $48 for grade schools and $65 in high schools, to $50 and 70. The bill probably will be the first measure to be fought out on the calendar Thursday.

An attempt to reconsider the vote by which the senate concurred Monday in house amendments which wrecked the governor's bill providing for abolition of the state administrative board and substitution of a director of state finance, failed.

A bill backed by the governor, which would provide a civil service commission to pass on all state employes was introduced today by Senator Christian F. Matthews, Republican, Mt. Clemens.

"Corpse" Sits Up And Says "Hello"

Fort Scott, Kas., May 1. (AP)—The "corpse" sat up and said "Good mawnin'."

But for that alcoholic breath, Patrolmen Tom Decker and Roy Reese would have sworn it was a ghost. Had they not seen the shed burn last night? Had they not found the "body" today, completely covered with ashes.

Then there was a movement. Jim Hunt, Arkansas negro, sat up. He was not even singed.

"Now, boss, I didn't mean na harm," the bleary-eyed Nomad protested. "I just crawled in heah last night to get out of the rain. I—"

Suddenly he looked about.

"Say," he exclaimed in trembling tones, "when did this place burn down."

Torpedoes Explode, Convicts Surrender

Florence, Ariz., May 1 (AP)—Two signal torpedoes exploded on the tracks near Colldge as a passenger train ran over them.

Then the telephone at the Arizona penitentiary rang.

"Come get us," said a frightened voice.

Guards soon had in custody Farley Carr and Milford Musser, who had fled the trusty quarters Monday night and hidden near the tracks.

They thought the explosions were from the guns of a pursuing posse.

Thousands Try Luck In Michigan Streams

(By The Associated Press)

Strong winds and weather so chilly that northern Michigan streams were coated with ice combined to discourage the less hardy anglers as another trout season opened Wednesday, but many thousands of dauntless fishermen tried their luck, with varying success.

In many communities, stores and schools were closed as entire towns donned extra sweaters and set out to seek the rainbow hued trout or their belligerent, brown brothers.

There was no accurate count of the number of fishermen who becieged the trout streams, but it was apparent that unfavorable weather reduced the state conservation department's advance estimate of from 50,000 to 75,000.

One Man in Jail

In some sections, the trout rose eagerly to the lures, even when the fishermen had to cast through thin ice. Early arrivals at Mill Pond, in the city of West Branch, found the fish biting ravenously and half a dozen anglers caught the limit of 15 within a few hours. The opening of the season found one enthusiastic fisherman in jail at Allegan. He is Ben Leffer, of Stanwood, who could not wait for the zero hour and drew a 10-day sentence for advancing the season one day.

F. A. Westerman, head of the fisheries division of the state conservation department said "The streams are in ideal condition with the water cold, but low and clear. We expect a large catch through the opening days."

Westerman estimated 100,000 resident fishermen would pay the 50 cents rod license fee this year and that approximately the same number of out-state fishermen would pay the non-resident fee.

In the Upper Peninsula there were varying reports on stream conditions, but an unanimous opinion that the catches, while of good size, were small in number.

Fishermen on the Jordan River, bucking high winds, reported satisfactory first day catches.

From the northeastern Michigan sector came reports of "better then average day luck." It was chilly and cloudy, but the streams were clear and low.

The Sturgeon, Black and Pigeon rivers around Gaylord were thronged. Reports along the Au Sable varied. Many fishermen complained of the cold weather. F. A. Wetzman of Detroit was among those who got the limit of 15 trout. Clarence Buck of Hale reported catching 14 brook trout in three hours in the Au Sable.

Reports from Gladwin indicated fishermen were averaging about five apiece fishing around Rose City was being done in mill ponds and power dams.

Schoolboys in several places employed worms to outdo their elders who were using flies and expensive lines and rods.

Four hundred fishermen in the vicinity of Manistee were handicapped by strong winds.

EUROPE STARTS AIR ARMS RACE

Another $25,000,000 Is Added to Force in Great Britain

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
(Copyright 1935, By The Associated Press)

London, May 1—Great Britain, an authoriatitive source revealed tonight, will spend an extra $25,000,000 this year to keep abreast of Germany in Europe's headlong air armaments race.

That amount will be expended in addition to the $105,000,000 already provided in air estimates for the current fiscal year, the informed source disclosed.

The propsal, regarded in informed quarters as an answer to Adolf Hitler's boast that the reich is as strong in the air as Great Britain, is expected to be the highlight of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's "important announcement" opening the house of commons debate on foreign affairs tomorrow.

Earlier today the prime minister, speaking in the commons, said flatly the British government stood behind an article he wrote last week assailing Germany's swift rearmament as perilous to the continent's peace.

Important Session

His statement served further to increase the interest, already tremendous, in tomorrow's session of the commons at which members will be given the first opportunity to air their views since Hitler ripped another page out of the Versailles treaty by renewing submarine construction.

The German fuehrer, commentators here said, could hardly have made any move more calculated to arouse British hostility because of the havoc German U-boats wrought among British shipping during the World war.

France and Italy waited to learn England's stand before themselves making any move on the submarine issue.

Replying to questions in the commons, concerning Germany's program, the first lord of the admiralty said:

"The British naval attache in Berlin was informed April 26 by the German authorities that an order to manufacture machinery, armaments, etc., for twelve 250-ton submarines was given at Chistmas and an order to construct hulls and assemble the component parts was given about the middle of April.

"He also was informed that, as a result of extensive preparations which had been made, the first submarine would probably be completed within six months."

Pressed for further information about the Kiel submarine school, Eyres Monsell admitted that the government knew that the "defense college" was opened at the Kiel naval base Oct. 1, 1933, even before Germany quit the disarmament conference.

Dead Man Dangles From Opened 'Chute

Chateauroux, France, May 1. (AP)—A dead man dangling from an open parachute floated down out of the skies here today after two army planes engaged in maneuvers collided in mid-air.

One of the planes cut the other in two; throwing Pilots Herve and Henigue and Observer Quenehaud from the cockpits of the ships.

The observer was killed in the fall to earth, but the pilots' parachutes opened. Herve landed safely, Henigue was dead.

GERMANY FOR PEACE-HITLER

Fuehrer Gives Appeal in Berlin for National Unity

BY A. D. STEFFERUD
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Berlin, May 1 (AP)—Adolf Hitler told the world again today that Germany wants only peace.

A million Nazis who braved high winds and thunderstorms to gather at the great Temel of Airdrome to attend the capital's May day celebration, heard Der Fuehrer, bareheaded and speaking hoarsely, interrupt his eulogy of the Nazi movement to say:

"Our strength lies not in tanks, cannon and marching battalions but in the unity of our people and its idealistic faith. x x x.

"What we want is not war, not unrest. Just as we restored peace within Germany, we want peace abroad, because only then can our domestic works be a success. x x x"

Pleads for Unity

The fuehrer's 1,500-word extemporaneous address, shouted over the wind's roar, drew from the chilled, wet throng below his rostrum less applause than usually greets his addresses.

His theme the assertion that Germans "are one people as ordained by God" and his conclusion the declaration that "My will must be your confession," the fuehrer gave the major part of his address over to an appeal for national unity, touching not at all upon armaments and international relations.

The realm leader assured his hearers that his greatest task was to make them happy and mentioned his sacrifices to attain unity, declaring "difficulties remain to be overcome."

"May other nations understand," he said, "that the Germany of today is not the Germany of yesterday. Therefore, fellow citizens, I ask you to bind faster the band of the community. Do not forget that you are members of one people as ordained by God."

Despite the storm, Berlin's May day demonstrations at the Luftgarten opera house and the airdrome were held in the favorite Nazi settings of flags, uniforms, loud speakers, marching columns bands and May trees. A holiday air prevailed elsewhere in Berlin with no newspapers appearing, government departments, banks and exchanges closed and delivery of mail suspended.

DEMO LEADER STRIKES BACK AT GOVERNOR

TRUTH DISTORTED, SAYS SPEAKER SCHROEDER

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, May 1. (AP)—The insurrection in the legislature against the enactment of an administration program raged on today with fresh vigor.

Democrats, smarting under the criticism shot at them by Governor Fitzgerald last night, and Republicans who allied themselves with the Democrats to defeat his measures, planned retaliatory steps. George A. Schroeder, Democratic speaker of the house, charged the governor distorted the facts. He announced he will take to the air himself Thursday night to broadcast a message to the people "telling the other side of the story."

"I am sure when the people are possessed of both sides of the story they will better appreciate the motives behind the governor's unjustified attack," Schroeder said.

The house speaker claimed the Democrats and the insurgent Republicans supported a substitute for the governor's bill to abolish the administrative board and set up a finance department "because the Democratic bill was better." The bill approved by both the house and the senate, and now on its way to the executive desk, would take supervision of state finances out of the hands of a commission. The governor would have nothing to say.

Governor Protests

"To give the governor the power to direct finances and the budget would be to place too much power in the hands of one man. It would make the governor a dictator," Schroeder declared.

"The Democrats didn't protest when the congress gave President Roosevelt greater powers than any dictator," Fitzgerald retorted. "The governor of the state is held responsible by the people for what is done with their money. Certainly he cannot be responsible if he has nothing to say about it."

A resolution was introduced in the house by Reps. Harold C. Bellows, Bay City, and Leonard A. Jurkiewicz, Detroit, both Democrats, proposing that the legislature appropriate funds to "buy clown suits for the members of the legislature." Governor Fitzgerald, in a speech Tuesday night called the insurgents "clowns."

Behind the turmoil of the administration-insurgent combat the legislature plugged along in routine fashion. In committee of the whole the house advanced bills providing for a deputy state health commissioner for the Upper Peninsula, a measure prohibiting the payment of alimony except when there are dependent children or the wife is physically unable to earn a livelihood, a bill prohibiting Sunday hunting in Lapeer county and a measure requiring candidates for public office in Wayne county to identify themselves.

Two resolutions providing for amendments to the state constitution to pave the way for an income tax were released to the floor from committee. One would change the constitution to permit

REPORT SHOWS COUZENS GIFT

Children's Fund Boosted $2,156,675 by Michigan Senator

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—Senator James Couzens, friend of the children of Michigan, has poured an additional $2,156,675 into the children's fund established with his original gift of $10,000,000.

The gift was disclosed today when the children's fund of Michigan—organized by the senator "to promote the health, welfare, happiness and development of the children of the state primarily, and elsewhere in the world"—issued its report. Dr. Hugo Freund, president of the fund, said the gift was made last November.

The fund is devoted to children through 40 agencies and last year aided 450,000 children. Summer camps, crippled children's league, community centers, child feeding educational programs, a book project are only a few of the agencies maintained or assisted by the fund in addition to hospitalization and training institutions.

SENATE ORDERS RELIEF INQUIRY

Roosevelt Starts Gears of Public Works Organization

BY W. B. RAGSDALE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 1 (AP)—A senate order for an inquiry into relief spending capped a series of developments today as President Roosevelt gathered the material to give official life to his four billion dollar work organization.

Among the chief happenings:

Mr. Roosevelt issued an order giving the rural resettlement division, with Rexford Guy Tugwell as administrator, authority to go ahead with a monthly allowance of $250,000 for administrative expenses. The order empowered Tugwell to buy or condemn land for the program.

Other relief chiefs gave the president estimates of the funds they would need so that he could issue the orders necessary to give their agencies legal power to work.

Senate Asks Probe

Morris L. Cooke, a Philadelphia engineer, agreed to set up the rural electrification division with the understanding that he would leave within a few months to go to Europe.

Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, asked the chief executive for $100,000,000 to meet the relief needs of states for May.

The senate inquiry, ordered by the adoption of a resolution by Senator Couzens (R-Mich) will be made by the appropriations committee. It will ask specifically about the data required of states before relief allotments are made, what cooperation and assistance is required of states, what agreements states must make, and the accounting methods used.

A two-hour conference of relief chieftains at the White House gave the president much of the information for the executive orders he will issue within the next day or so setting up the allotment board, the applications division and the progress division.

While Tugwell had orders to go ahead.

No new projects can be started by his section until the planning, allotment and progress divisions start functioning.

As originally drafted, the executive order gave Tugwell $10,000,000 for administrative expenses. This was changed after the afternoon meeting to $250,000 with the explanation that this smaller sum was expected to see Tugwell through the first month.

Pontiac Firm Plans Costly Expansion

Pontiac, Mich., May 1. (AP)—H. J. Klingler, president of the Pontiac Motor company, and G. F. Fisher, general manager of Fisher Body Corporation announced today that $3,500,000 would be spent within the next few months in expansion of the Pontiac company's production facilities here.

"Expansion of the Fisher body plant which supplies bodies for Pontiac cars will cost $2,500,000," the statement said, "and $1,000,000 will be spent in enlarging the Pontiac Motor company plant."

The expansion will include new buildings, machinery and equipment. Construction work already has started.

ROOSEVELT FAVORS TWO YEAR CONTINUANCE

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 1 (AP)—A sudden crystalization of senate sentiment for clipping the wings of NRA and extending its lease of life only until next April, pointed today to the possibility of a major legislative defeat for President Roosevelt.

At the same time, this jelling of sentiment held promise of a much quicker adjournment of congress and constituted a serious blow to the chances of the Wagner labor bill. Friends of the labor disputes measure had counted heavily on the prospect of forcing its consideration as an amendment to the NRA bill.

Over the objections of the chief executive, the senate finance committee voted today to report a resolution for the brief extension of the recovery law with modifications. Party chieftains immediately lined up their forces to put the resolution through quickly and without change.

Drop Price Fixing

Under the program approved by the powerful finance committee, the present recovery law would be extended by a simple resolution merely continuing the present law until April 1, 1936, with price fixing and regulation of intra-state business eliminated. Price fixing would be permitted in natural resource industries for which codes now provide it.

Meanwhile, government attorneys—Stanley Reed of the justice department and Donald Richberg of NRA—prepared for the opening of crucial arguments before the supreme court tomorrow on the constitutionality of NRA. They filed a bulky brief with the court just before it closed this afternon.

Senate proponents of the extension-until-April plan argued that congress would have the first three months of next session to revise the recovery law more permanently on the basis of court decisions on its constitutionality. Meanwhile, the administration would be free to reorganize and revise the code structure to meet the criticisms which have been raised.

Despite President Roosevelt's recommendation for a two year extension of the law, the finance committee voted 16 to 3 for the substitute plan advanced by NRA foes.

The chief executive in a conference with congressional leaders yesterday turned the plan down, but was authoritatively reported to have said he would sign such a measure if it was the best he could get. Richberg, NRA chief, bitterly opposed the proposal. Foes and critics of the recovery law were quick to claim a victory.

Approval Predicted

Senator Nye (R-N. D.), one of the leading critics, characterized the committee's decision as "very fine," adding "that ought to expedite and get NRA out of the way temporarily and give the administration 10 months to accomplish the reforms which they

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

The senate moved to take up the bonus bill after capitulating to southern demands to sidetrack the anti-lynching bill.

A showdown house vote on the banking bill appeared likely next week as opposing factions aligned themselves either for extension or reduction of federal control over banking.

President Roosevelt completed his rural resettlement machinery by allocating $250,000 to the program naming Rexford G. Tugwell as director.

The senate finance committee opened the way for a possible administration set-back by voting to report a resolution extending NRA until next April 1 with price fixing and regulation of intrastate business eliminated.

Chairman McSwain of the house military committee accepted full blame for revelation of secret army testimony which brought a rebuke from President Roosevelt.

The senate ordered an investigation of the distribution of funds by the federal relief administration.

Henry J. Allen, Kansas Republican, climaxed a day of new assaults on the new deal by speakers before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States by lauding the English recovery program.

SENATE TAKES UP BONUS BILL

Seven-Day Filibuster on Anti-Lynching Issue Finally Broken

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Smarting from a semi-serious presidential criticism of senatorial lethargy, Democratic leaders, aided by Republicans, today flung off the senate's anti-lynching bill filibuster in favor of the controversial bonus issue.

A move to adjourn which had failed on three previous occasions, finally carried 48 to 32 after several Republicans and Democrats had rallied to the southern cause. Senator Borah, Idaho Republican, assailed from the floor the constitutionality of the Costigan-Wagner measure to give the federal government power in lynching cases.

Many senators credited Borah with breaking the deadlock. This parliamentary tactic ended a seven-day successful southern filibuster.

Hot Fight Ahead

Shortly afterward Vice President Garner recognized Senator Harrison (D-Miss) who proposed that the bonus be taken up.

The motion carried without a record vote. The bonus debate, however, was put off until tomorrow because Senator Robinson, Democratic leader who had moved the temporary adjournment, decided to hack away at an accumulated list of secondary bills.

The adjournment motion was supported by 43 Democrats, 4 Republicans and the Farmer-Laborite, Shipstead. Fourteen Democrats, all from the north and west; 17 Republicans, nd the Progressive, La Follette, answered "No."

Those switching from previous roll calls to the side of Robinson for adjournment included Senator Couzens Republican of Michigan.

Another hot fight faces the senate on the bonus question. Harrison hopes to put across his compromise plan for paying World War Veterans in bonds or cash on the basis of the current adjusted value of their service certificates. But contests impend on moves to substitute the house-approved Patman inflationary cash-payment or the Vinson plans.

Senator Borah assailed lynching as a "brutal" crime, but said the pending bill, as well as the Dyer proposal, would have "dealt a blow to our principle of government, the importance of which could not be overstated."

Says Grand Rapids Has Illegal Stills

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 1 (AP)—Wallace A. Stanley, manager of the Grand Rapids office of the Michigan liquor control commission, charged today that "there are a hundred stills operating in Grand Rapids."

Stanley said the Grand Rapids city commission proposed to allocate only $200 for enforcement expenses and added "that isn't a drop in the bucket." The city, he said, "gets 80 per cent of the license money returned to it. It would seem that more of this might be used for enforcement."

Gasoline Prices Are Raised Again

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—Standard Oil Company of Indiana announced today that all grades of gasoline would be increased 3-10 of a cent a gallon, effective Thursday morning. Officials said the raise was necessitated by an increase in wholesale gasoline prices.

Following the announcement, most of the major oil distribution companies in the Detroit area said they probably would follow suit. Only one, the White Star Refining Company, announced definitely that its prices also would go up Thursday.

claimed can be made without a new law."

Nye added sarcastically, however, that "if Richberg accomplishes the reforms as fast in the next ten months as in the past two, we still will have the same problem on our hands next session."

Chairman Harrison said he felt the move was "the best way out" and would be approved by congress without a great deal of debate.

"Ninety percent of the criticism revealed in our investigation can be cured through administrative processes," Harrison said, "and I haven't the slightest doubt that NRA, acting under the direction of the president, in event this is extended, will make such changes as will cure those defects."

Senator McNary, Republican leader, commented the committee's action as "a splendid achievement."

Fleet Preparing For Naval Battles

Aboard U. S. S. Pennsylvania, San Francisco Harbor, May 1 (AP)—A powerful high seas battle fleet moved into San Francisco bay today in the first phase of the annual maneuvers of the United States navy.

Ships darkened, radios silenced, decks cleared for action and men at battle stations, the war craft glided through the Golden Gate under cover of darkness.

Under command of Admiral Harris Laning, distinguished strategist and tactician, the force of 10 dreadnaughts, two aircraft carriers, a division of heavy cruisers, a division of light cruisers, a squadron of four divisions of destroyers mine sweepers and auxiliaries composed the fleet.

It was just one of the units of the several forces in which the 153 warships of the fleet have been divided for the six weeks' maneuvers.

For at least two days this force will remain in San Francisco Bay before its silent night departure to renew war games in the north Pacific.

Bill Introduced To Stop Cutting Isle Royale Trees

Lansing, May 1 (AP)—A bill designed to prohibit the cutting of timber on picturesque Isle Royal was introduced in the legislature today by Rep. James K. Jamison, Democrat, Ontonagon. It would make it a misdemeanor for any power company to remove timber which would affect a water shed without the consent of the state conservation director.

Jamison advocates purchase of the island by the state to make it possible to have it designated officially as a national park.

May Day Parade In New York Is Orderly

New York, May 1 (AP)—The Legions of the proletariat marched and countermarched through the bright, gusty canyons of Manhattan today in what police called the largest and most orderly May Day demonstration in years.

The marchers paraded in two separate hosts through densely packed streets to their respective meeting places.

The city's entire police force of 16,000 men was on call at strategic spots but no serious disorders arose.

The Socialists and Trade Unionists presented the strongest front, police estimating there were 100,000 in the line of march. The Communist parade drew between 40,000 and 60,000.

U. S. Closes Mails For Persons Who Sponsor Lottery

Washington, April 30. (AP)—In the biggest single blow it has ever directed at the sale of lottery tickets in this country, the post-office department today closed the United States mails against 409 persons in Canada, Cuba and the Irish Free State.

The effect of the fraud orders issued against their persons, as well as three postoffice boxes in Ottawa, will be to have returned to the sender all mail addressed to them.

The order was issued as a part of the department's drive against the sale in this country of lottery tickets on Canadian and Irish sweepstakes.

Capitalist Might Give His Property To U. of Michigan

Detroit, May 1 (AP)—Colonel Edwin S. George, capitalist, told the city council today he contemplates giving his Detroit real estate holdings to the University of Michigan if the earning power of the property is not reestablished by assessment and tax reductions.

Colonel George appeared before the council as it sat as a board of review as a member of a committee. He already has made large gifts to the school.

"Gentlemen," he told the council, "you have seen me very rarely. I have always wanted to pay my just taxes. All I have in Detroit is what Detroit has been good enough to give me and I appreciate it. But I am giving serious consideration to turning over all of my property in Detroit to the University of Michigan for its use, and I shall do it if the earning power of the properties cannot be restored."

It was pointed out that university owned property does not pay taxes.

Requests Haircut And Shave On Day Before Execution

Belleville, Ont., May 1 (AP)—Harold W. Vermilyea, who will be hanged tomorrow for the murder of his mother, today requested a shave and haircut. This was granted and three guards stood about while the barber worked.

Vermilyea was up early after a restful night and gave no outward indication he was greatly concerned over his fate.

Sales Tax Revenue Reaches New High

Lansing, May 1 (AP)—Sales tax revenues shot up to a new high mark during March, according to a report today by the state board of tax administration. The yield was $3,603,110—almost $100,000 more than any month since the levy became effective. Officials estimated the tax will produce more than $40,000,000 this year.

graduated taxes; the other would levy against all incomes in excess of $5,000 a year to build up a fund for old age pensions and unemployment insurance. Their fate appeared doubtful.

The house also received a resolution calling for an amendment to the constitution to abolish the office of township road commissioner. Rep. Harry Glass, Democrat, Grand Rapids, submitted a proposed constitutional change to make the office of superintendent of public instruction appointive—by the state board of education—rather than elective.

Brunette Picked As Blossom Queen

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 1 (AP)—Marybeth Kemp, 20-year-old Battle Creek brunette, outscored 26 fair rivals here tonight for the honor of being queen of the annual Michigan blossom festival which opens next Sunday.

After 14 ballots the five judges narrowed their selection down to Miss Kemp. She was entered as a "home girl." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kemp of Battle Creek.

Runner-up honors went to another brunette, Miss Bette Brady, 18, of Benton Harbor, third place was captured by Miss Flossie Van Gordes, 19, of Watervliet.

Queen Maybeth will begin her reign over the week-long blossom festival Sunday. The annual affair attracts thousands of visitors to the fruit lands of southwestern Michigan.

Testimony In Parish Trial Is Concluded

Chicago, May 1. (AP)—Testimony in the $20,000,000 mail fraud trial of Frank P. Parish, once known as the "boy wizard of finance," and S. J. Maddin, Kansas City oil operator, ended today and the case was scheduled to go to the federal court jury late tomorrow.

Frank P. Fisher, consulting engineer now engaged in Detroit's gas rate inquiry, brought the defense to an unexpected climax when he testified he believed the 900-mile pipe line that Parish built would pay for itself and make $100,000,000 profit in 25 years if operated at 70 per cent of capacity.

Investigation In Slayings Finished

Los Angeles, May 1 (AP)—Investigation of the strange, triple slayings of Henry E. Bolte, Paul Ivar and William McCauley Howard was closed today when a coroner's jury decided that Howard, a naval reserve ensign, killed Bolte and Ivar and then sent a bullet through his own head.

Mrs. Virginia Bolte told the jury that she believed Howard was psychopathic, and that he was mistaken in his contention that her husband owed him money.

Bolte did not know who shot him, his wife declared. She told of seeing "three flashes" and then finding the crumpled form of her husband lying near Howard's body.

"Virginia, what has happened?" she said he asked her. "Who did it?"

Algerian Sheiks Feel Depression

Los Angeles, May 1 (AP)—Sheiks of Algeria are just beginning to feel the world-wide depression and as a result have cut down on their harems, Dr. Marcel Carret, prominent French physician of Algiers, said today as he stopped here on a world tour.

Only rich men can afford more than one wife, he said.

Threatens Lindy, Man Is Arrested

Paterson, N. J., May 1. (AP)—The night watchman of a silk mill was arrested today as the writer of letters to the Paterson police and Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison, threatening the life of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

The prisoner, Philip Martin, 46, will be arraigned tomorrow.

Stone and Haussling said Martin admitted the letters, written six weeks ago, were in his handwriting. He said, however, he could not remember having written them.

"This is from John," each of the letters said in part. "This is not a ransom note; this is a killing note. I'll kill Lindy and myself. I am John and I am going to take the law in my hands."

Martin's wife told the detectives, they said, that her husband had become abnormally interested in the Lindbergh case and believed Bruno Richard Hauptmann innocent.

Youth Mother Stabs Son With Scissors

Stanton, Mich., May 1 (AP)—Miss Fannie Bush, 17, who said that she stabbed her infant son to death with a pair of scissors "because I didn't want him kicked around like I have been all my life," won clemency in circuit court today.

Judge Royal A. Hawley admitted her to probation for two years after she had pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

Children's Clinic To Be Constructed At Traverse City

Lansing, May 1 (AP)—Governor Fitzgerald signed today a bill making possible the construction of a $75,000 crippled children's clinic at Traverse City.

The measure, sponsored by Senator Felix H. H. Flynn, Republican, Cadillac, will allow the Michigan Children's Fund to obtain power, heat, light, and a site from the Michigan State hospital at Traverse City.

head.

At the same time, hoarse-throated Adolf Hitler stood in the snow at Tempelhof airfield and shouted: "What we want is not war, not unrest. x x x We want peace abroad."

Der Fuehrer's dramatic avowal of peaceful aims contrasted directly to his speech earlier in the day before 100,000 school children.

"As the wind now blows our flags around us," Hitler said, "It may a few years hence gather storm clouds around us, but you will not be frightened."

Elsewhere in the world, labor likewise observed May Day quietly.

Tokyo—Three thousand police escorted six thousand marchers as conservatives and radicals, demonstrating separately, held two uneventful processions.

Buenos Aires—the day was observed throughout South America with festivities of labor syndicates in the larger cities.

Wear Will Captain Davis Cup Squad

New York, May 1 (AP)—Joseph W. Wear, of Philadelphia, former chairman of the Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association, has been elected to captain the American Cup team to go abroad if the United States wins the American zone matches beginning at Mexico City this week-end.

The team to compete abroad is expected to consist of Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex., the No. 1 ranking United States star; J. Donald Budge, San Francisco; Gene Mako, Los Angeles; Sidney B. Wood, jr., New York, and John Van Ryn, Philadelphia.

Plans for the Europe invasion, contingent upon a victory at Mexico City, call for the team to assemble for a week of practice at the Merion Cricket club, Haverford, Pa., under the direction of Charles S. Garland, former Davis Cup player, and Hans Nusslein, German professional, before sailing on June 5.

MUSIC EVENTS ARE ARRANGED

Upper Peninsula Pupils Coming Three Times to Escanaba

Music students of the Upper Peninsula's public and parochial schools are now preparing themselves to participate in three outstanding musical events, which will be held in Escanaba this year.

The first event is the Vocal and Orchestra Music Festival, Saturday, May 4; the second, the Band Festival, Saturday, May 25; and third, the All-Upper Peninsula High School Band at the U. P. State Fair in Escanaba in August.

600 Students Expected

The Vocal and Orchestra Festival, with over 600 students taking part, will consist of individual events representing the various schools and four massed events—the massed boys' chorus, massed girls' chorus, massed mixed chorus and massed orchestra. Mischa Mischakoff, concert master of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will be guest artist this year and will give a violin concert, with Doris Wittich as accompanist, for the students in the morning.

The Band Festival will attract about four hundred youthful musicians to Escanaba on May 25. The afternoon program will be held at the Escanaba high school athletic field, where 3,000 persons will be able to watch the parade and maneuvers of the uniformed bands on the gridiron.

U. P. Band at Fair

The All-Upper Peninsula high school band, composed of 125 outstanding boy musicians from the various communities, will be a new educational attraction at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, and the uniformed organization will appear for concerts and other programs on the three closing days of the exposition, August 23 to 25. The fair management will provide food and housing, but it will be up to the participants to pay for their own transportation.

R. P. Bowers, musical director of the Escanaba public schools, will be in charge of the large band organization. Mr. Bowers is the originator of the Upper Peninsula Music Festival and has served as its chairman four years. He also directed the massed band and orchestra groups at the M. E. A. convention in Escanaba last October. The new band project has been conducted on a larger scale with much success at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus in recent years.

National Conservation Society Backs Efforts For Isle Royale Park

The Educational Conservation society, a national organization heading up various state departments and conservation organizations, has approved Isle Royale as a national park and will include this project in its nation-wide drive for the enlargement of the federal park system, Harry G. Vavra, president of the organization, announced yesterday.

Isle Royale was listed in the organization's program, according to Mr. Vavra, because it would serve to preserve this last frontier of civilization in the United States, which is highly desirable because of its wilderness state, interesting herd of moose and scenic beauty.

Other park projects favored by the Educational Conservation society are:

The establishment of Admiralty Island in Alaska as a national park in order to preserve the splendid spruce and cedar trees and protect the Alaska brown and grizzly bears; the creation of at least two naational parks in the Cascade mountains in Oregon and Washington to preserve examples of the various magnificent fir and hemlock forests; the preservation of Crater Lake park intact, free from exploitation and the addition to it of the Diamond Lake region; the enlargement of Yellowstone park to protect the winter range of the elk through adding regions especially on the south, and by joining Yellowstone and Grand Teton National parks, including in them the Jackson Hole region; and the acquisition of the Redwood Canyon Sequoia Grove, the largest grove still in existence, to be added to the Sequoia National park in California.

The society will aid the Quetico-Superior Council in its efforts to secure the establishment of an international forest park in the Quetico-Superior region of Ontario, Canada, and Minnesota. This project will not only conserve a splendid wilderness area noted for its lakes, forests and wild life but will also promote the friendly relations existing between the two neighboring countries.

ESCANABA MAN CCC SCULPTOR

James G. Johnson Named To Depict Scenes in Luce County

BY PAUL MAY

Washington, D. C., May 1.—An Escanaba young man will be given an opportunity to preserve for posterity the work of the C C C camps, it was learned here today.

The man is James G. Johnson, 915 First Avenue South, Escanaba. He has been appointed by the Treasury Department as an artist member of the CCC camp in the private park in Luce county, Michigan.

Although a member of the CCC camp, Johnson, a sculptor, will devote his full time to modelling and depicting scenes about the camp, it was stated.

The finished works of art will be sent to Washington where they will be added to the official collection of Public Works of Art and preserved as a lasting record of the undertaking of the ECW and the CCC camps, it was stated.

AMUSEMENTS

There will be roller skating as usual at the Coliseum this afternoon. The "mysterious spot" will be the feature of the evening program.

SOLONS AFTER O'HARA SCALP

But Republicans Stand in Way of Scheme to Oust Him

Lansing, Mich. — Democratic legislators accepted today the responsibility of providing a club with which the Democratic State Central Committee may drive State Chairman Elmer B. O'Hara out of office.

Already strong, the legislative opposition to O'Hara was increased by what happened at Escanaba Saturday. Fifteen county chairmen of the Upper Peninsula, meeting at the state chairman's call, adopted a resolution urging him to resign. He had hoped they would demand for him and themselves the right to dictate Federal patronage north of the straits, but he was disappointed to an even greater extent than at a similar conference of Lower Peninsula county chairman held in Grand Rapids recently. The Grand Rapids conferees merely resolved that the Michigan members of the Democratic National Committee also should be consulted about patronage.

Leaves Meeting

O'Hara left the Escanaba meeting before the resolution demanding his resignation was adopted, thus escaping the unpleasantness of hearing himself denounced by former Gov. William A. Comstock, who had spiked his guns at Grand Rapids; Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner and Frank A. Picard, erstwhile Democratic candidate for United States senator.

O'Hara paid his disrespects to these three bigwigs and to the National Committeeman Horatio J. Abbott in his opening remarks. As soon as his speech was finished, he thought it just as well to leave.

Having been elected less than three months ago, O'Hara will remain in office until February, 1937, unless he resigns or unless some legal method to remove him is provided. To supply a method is the object of a bill introduced last week by Rep. Harold C. Bellows (Dem.), of Bay City, with the knowledge and consent of Speaker George A. Schroeder and other leading Democrats. This bill would permit 20 per cent of the members of the Democratic State Central Committee (or any other party's committee) to call a meeting of the committee at Lansing. At such a meeting, any officer might be removed and his successor appointed by majority vote.

If the bill goes through, it is virtually certain O'Hara will be ousted. Opposed by Comstock, Van Wagoner, Picard, Abbott and many other party chieftains, he has the whole-hearted support of a few really influential Democrats.

Saved by Lacy

But for Arthur J. Lacy, unsuccessful Democratic nominee for Governor last fall, O'Hara would have been replaced at the Democratic state convention in Detroit, for the leaders had agreed on Thomas F. McAllister, of Grand Rapids, for state chairman. At the last moment Lacy swung back to O'Hara, McAllister refusing to run without unanimous backing, and O'Hara was victorious. Then O'Hara scolded Lacy for wavering.

But it is improbable that the Bellows bill will become law. It may be reported by the Elections Committee, which is heavily Democratic, and it may be passed by the House, over which, with the aid of a few Republican deserters, the Democrats have been exercising limited control. But the Republican Senate is unlikely to pass any measure which might eliminate a major cause of Democratic discord. The Republicans are well satisfied with the prospect of facing a hopelessly divided Democratic party in the state election of 1936.

Elmer B. O'Hara, State chairman of the Democrats, was back in Detroit after the trip to Escanaba where, Saturday night, 15 Upper Peninsula chairmen demanded his resignation.

"I'm not going to resign," he said. "I knew before I went up there that they had arranged to frame me but I went anyway. I wasn't going to back down.

"Comstock said I was interested in a distillery in Kentucky so I could sell liquor to the State Liquor Control Commission. I am a stockholder in the Independent Distilleries of Kentucky, and I guess my family are the controlling stockholders, but it has nothing to do with selling whisky to the State commission.

"Abbott, Comstock and Picard (Frank A. Picard, former chairman of the liquor control commission) had that Upper Peninsula meeting all rigged and the demand of those 15 chairmen that I resign is just a joke."

33 Families to Come Here to Start Long Journey to Matanuska

Thirty-three families from the western half of the upper peninsula will be concentrated in Escanaba about May 9 to take an immigrant train on their trip to their new homes in the Matanuska valley in Alaska, it was announced yesterday by Arthur M. Gilbert, Delta county relief administrator. There will be about 135 persons from the eleven counties in the group.

Each family will be allowed to take 2,000 pounds of baggage. The colonists will go on a Soo Line train from Gladstone and Minneapolis, where they will be joined by other families from northern Wisconsin and Minnesota. They will continue on their way to Seattle, and then will take a boat to Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Parlette, who live on a farm at Rapid River, have been selected as the Delta county family to make the trip to Alaska. The Parlettes, who are near 30 years of age, were selected from a list of 15 applicants. Rigid requirements as to health, physique, farming ability and the pioneering instinct are made in selecting these families.

Each family will be given 40 acres of land in the Matanuska valley and a $3,000 loan to build a home and purchase farming equipment. The loan is being made by the Alaskan division of the rural rehabilitation corporation and the borrowers have 30 years to pay back.

Two agricultural experiment stations are located in the section where the colonists will be located. School facilities are available, and a community house and other social services will be provided later.

DELTA COUNTY FARMS LISTED

Number Increased 173 Since 1930, Census Figures Show

Figures of the federal farm census in Delta county, just received by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, show an increase of 173 in the number of Delta county farms since 1930.

This year's census figures list 1,557 farms as of Jan. 1, 1935, while on April 1, 1930 the census gave a total of 1,384 farms.

The increase is attributed largely to the back-to-the-soil movement which came as result of industrial unemployment. Many of the newly-established farms are small, and others are of a partial-subsistence nature, but indications are that a large part of the farm increase in Delta county will be permanent.

The census of 1925 credited Delta county with 1,468 farms, and in 1920 the number was 1,395, about the same as in 1930. The total value of land and buildings, however, was highest in 1920. For that year, it stood at $6,121,975, compared with $6,102,915 in 1925 and a drop to $5,594,325 in 1930.

The crop land total for 1930 was 48,636 acres, with 61,661 acres of pasture land, 25,009 acres of woodland not pasture and 12,648 acres not classified. The greatest number of farms are 50 to 99 acres, although the small farms of 3 to 20 acres have increased notably in recent years. This increase was evident even in the period from 1920 to 1930.

EDITORIAL

WE MOVE AHEAD

ACTION by the Escanaba city council in authorizing the engineer's department to draft a plan for providing adequate boating and beach facilities will meet with the enthusiastic approval of the many citizens who are sincerely interested in the development of this community's waterfront.

Drafting of a plan will furnish something more tangible with which to work. Of course, there is much to do yet.

It is hoped to include the waterfront project as one to be done under the new work relief program. No information is yet available as to what percentages of the funds will be allotted for materials and labor, and consequently it is impossible at this moment to feel assured that this project will go through.

If the allotment for materials by the federal government is insufficient, there is the possibility that the amount could be augmented by the $5,000, which the Escanaba city council set aside as a bathing beach fund after the sale of the city's property on Ludington street to the Glavin Estate. Not a cent of this money has been used yet and it would seem that the new waterfront improvement program offers a splendid opportunity for some wise spending.

ROADSIDE BEAUTY

A WELL known Gladstone citizen, who has been active in recent years in the promotion of projects designed to build up this north country as a vacationland, has made the suggestion that CCC labor might be used to advantage in beautifying upper peninsula roadsides.

He points out that US-2 now runs through the Hiawatha National Forest area, east of Rapid River, but there is little evidence of forests to be found along that highway. The planting of trees and shrubbery would beautify the roadsides and provide more pleasing sights for tourists.

The highways are the showrooms of the upper peninsula. So many tourists obtain their impressions of this north country from what they see as they travel along in their automobiles.

The CCC workers have been forced to do most of their work out in the isolated regions, where little of the public goes. As a result, there is often, the mistaken impression that the CCC is of little benefit. By putting the boys along the highways, planting trees and shrubberies, they would have a good opportunity to show what they can do.

Highway forestry, it seems, should have a place in the program of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

'INCIDENT' THREATENS

ANYONE who wants to see world peace maintained must hope that there will be no repetition of the frontier incidents which have recently disturbed Franco-German relations.

The French charge that German airplanes have been making illegal flights over French fortified areas—presumably to try to learn something about France's great new chain of frontier forts. So it is announced that if any more German planes come over, French planes will go aloft and force them down.

It is easy to see how a thing like that could lead directly to war. An over-zealous German flyer wanders over a French fortified zone without authorization; French planes shoot him down—and in each nation there is touched off a wave of anger and suspicion that causes reprisals, counter-reprisals, and ultimately war.

It could happen just that way. We can only hope that it won't.

BUILDING RECOVERY

IF EVERYONE connected with the cycle of repairing and modernizing American homes could be smitten by an attack of intelligent selfishness, our swing back toward prosperity would get an enormous impetus.

This is the statement of Louis J. Alber, chief of the speakers' division of the Federal Housing Administration. He points out that if repairs were made upon all American homes which really need them, it would keepj 6,000,000 workers busy for a solid year—which, at a low estimate, would inject at least $6,000,000,000 into the channels of trade.

"But it is only intelligent selfishness that will put the program across," he warns. "The home owner must be selfish enough to want betterment of his home, the banker to make interest on his loan, the builder his profit, and the worker his wage."

It is to be hoped that Mr. Alber can sell his idea. Putting 6,000,000 men to work in the building trades would deal the depression a body blow.

ASSAILS LEGG

THE Detroit Times writes a scathing article concerning Representative Peter R. Legg of Delta county because of his opposition to the Glass bill providing for revision of the state constitution. The article in the Times reads as follows:

"Look at this man. He is Mr. Peter Legg, representative in the Legislature, from Escanaba. He is one of the reactionaries who not only opposes legislation that would cut the cost of government in Michigan, but actually refuses to let the people decide, by voting, whether they want more efficient and economical government.

"Representative Legg is no worse than many of his colleagues but he is more candid than most of them. He voted this week against the Glass bill which would have allowed the voters to determine whether they wanted (by convention) to revise and modernize the state constitution.

"Representative Legg told the House:

"'Do you know what this bill might do? Why, back of this measure is a plan to consolidate townships, reduce the number of school districts, and eliminate many county offices by establishing a unit system. The state is not ready for such a step as this. I just want to warn you men what is behind this measure before you vote.'

"Representative Legg's warning was gratefully received. His patriotic pals promptly voted down the bill which would have been a step toward relieving the tremendous tax burden under which we now stagger.

"Look again at Mr. Legg's picture. It is the picture of a man who has no right in public life.

"Mr. Legg typifies the kind of public servant who is a public servant in name only. He typifies the politician who is thoroughly selfish, thoroughly subservient to his own little clique regardless of the general public welfare.

"Statesmen like Mr. Legg once were common in town councils and legislatures. They care nothing about the common good, nothing about the needs of the whole electorate, nothing about good government or progressive government or economical government.

"They care only to perpetuate themselves at the public trough.

"We must be rid of them if we want good government in Michigan. We must scrutinize their legislative actions. We must remember thei rnames when we vote.

"We must drive all the Mr. Leggs out of public service and into private life where their selfishness and their cynicism won't hurt all of the people all of the time.

"Then, and then only, will the taxpayers get relief."

We have learned one thing from the Mae West controversy—that the forgotten man is a fellow named Frank Wallace.

Chemists reveal that you can drink tea without fear of being poisoned. That depends, of course, on whether you are heavily insured.

CHAPTER XLII

Millicent dashed down the stairs as fast as her feet could carry her. She crossed the lobby on the run, pushed open the door of the apartment house, and sprinted across the strip of sidewalk between her and the taxicab.

The cab driver saw her coming. He jerked open the door of the cab, shifted gears raced the motor, and held the clutch down with his foot. As Millicent jumped into the cab he slammed the door shut and let the clutch in, all in one motion. It seemed to Millicent that the car fairly leapt forward, throwing her back against the cushions.

The tires screamed as the cab driver negotiated the corner and skidded into the side street. Millicent felt as helpless as a kernel of popcorn in a hopper on a hot stove. She was bounced around from one side of the cab to the other, her ears filled with the noise of the racing motor and the sound of protesting tires as the cab whirled around a second corner.

She saw the broad shoulders of the cab driver braced back of the wheel, realized that his foot was crowding the throttle, pushing it down clear to the floor boards, but, as she looked back through the rear window of the cab, it seemed to her that they were barely crawling along, so great was her panic and so been her desire to get away from the neighborhood. Her ears echoed with the sound of that police whistle. Now she had definitely burned her bridges. She was a fugitive from justice.

All sorts of visions floated through her tortured mind and she heard, as from a great distance, the voice of the cab driver saying, "Any place in particular, Miss?"

It took her several seconds to get sufficient control of herself to trust her voice.

"No," she said. "Just away."

He slowed the car slightly, flashed her a quick glance over his shoulder and said, "That's the way I figured it, Miss. When you came out of there on the run I figured you wanted to make a quick start, and boy, oh boy! did I make it!"

She leaned forward, realizing that this cab driver would become either a dangerous witness against her, or an invaluable ally.

"I'll say you did," she said. "You certainly made a fine job of it. Pull in to the curb here for a moment. I want to talk with you."

"Where?"

"Right in to the curb. Right here."

"There's a garage there, ma'am. I'd better swing around the corner."

"That's all right."

He swung around the corner ran for a half block, braked the car to a stop but left the motor idling. He turned around to face her with a friendly grin.

"Trouble?" he asked.

"I don't know," she said. "My friend wasn't where he was supposed to be and someone became very offensive."

"I'll go back there and take a pop at him," the cab driver offered.

"No. You cauldn't do that because he's on the force."

"You mean a cop?"

"Yes."

"Say—that's bad!"

"Well, it couldn't be helped, but under the circumstances I wouldn't want you to take a pop at him, as you express it."

A reminiscent grin came over the man's features. "Well, now, Miss, I'm not making any admissions but if these knuckles of mine smacked up against the face of a cop, it might not be such a surprise to 'em as you'd think." He chuckled reminiscently.

"There's one thing, however that you can do," Millicent said. "It would help me a lot."

"What is it, Miss?"

"Just remember the time when I went into that apartment house and how long I was gone."

"You mean you want me to swear that you wasn't in there very long?"

"That's right. I wouldn't want you to swear to anything that wasn't the truth, but I wasn't in there very long and I'd like to have you remember it just that way."

"Ma'am," he said gallantly, "you walked into that door, and, so help me, I don't think it could have been over 30 seconds later that you came out on the run—well, maybe a minute, but a minute at the outside."

"No," she told him, smiling. "You're just a little bit optimistic. You don't need to go that strong. I think perhaps I was in there three or four minutes."

"As long as that?" he asked in surprise that was either genuine or remarkably well simulated.

"I think so. I had to take an elevator to the third floor, go to an apartment and then come back down this stairs, and I was talking with this man. I was telling you about for perhaps a minute of so."

"Well, just as you say," he said. "If you did all that, I guess it was probably three minutes. You might even make it four at the outside, but that's stretching it to the limit."

"You see," she said, "something happened in there that I wouldn't want to be connected with. It happened just about 10 minutes before I came out."

His face showed relief.

"Oh, shucks," he said. "I won't have to stretch it at all because you really weren't in there any 10 minutes."

"That's what I want you to remember."

"That's swell," he said, I remember that, easy."

"Now," she said, "I'd like to have you do something else for me."

"What is it?"

"You remember the man who went in there?"

"Sure."

Millicent took a bill from her purse. "I'd like to have you drop me off here, turn around and go back to that apartment house. Wait in front of the door. If you see my friend come out, tell him that his party is waiting for him at the hotel where he met her earlier."

"Just that?"

"If you want to trust me with the name of the hotel, ma'am, I wouldn't . . ."

She shook her head and said, "It isn't that, but this is one of those cases where what you don't know won't hurt you. That will be enough to give him the information I want him to have and it won't be enough to get you into any trouble if the wrong parties should ask you questions."

The cab driver's gratful hand closed about the bill Millicent handed him.

"Ma'am," he said, "the wrong parties could question me from now until they made skating rinks in the hot place, and they couldn't get anything from me."

"You don't understand," she said.

Sudden comprehension filled his countenance.

"Oh, I see. You mean the cops. . . . There, there, Miss I

THESE FLOWERS TO YOU

These flowers to you will wither in a day
These flowers ,to you, will seem a blue bouquet
To light the room
A little with its smile,
And to perfume
The place a little while,
To make some corner for a moment gay,
And then a faded thing to throw away.

These flowers to you so soon will fade and fail,
These flowers, to you, are little to recall.
You do not know
How much each petal holds,
See azure glow,
Yet do not see the golds.
A little bud can be so very small,
And yet contain one's heart, and life, and all.

These flowers to you with trembling hands I send.
These flowers, to you, a greeting from a friend.
If that be best,
Then do not look too deep,
Yet let my breast
Forever something keep—
That I did not protest, nor you pretend,
Though you loved not at all, I to the end.

GOSSIPERS PEEVED WHEN WOMAN REDUCED 21 LBS.

Never Felt So Good In 20 Years

Gossipers who tell you reducing is harmful or that you don't need to reduce (when your mirror tells you differently) probably wouldn't want to see you the slender woman you can be if you'll take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a cup of hot water every morning—tastes fine with juice of half lemon added.

Kruschen can't harm you—it's a health treatment—physicians prescribe it. If one jar (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle) doesn't take 12 lbs. off you — money back.

SPRING LACKED APRIL SHOWERS

Past Month Was Short On Rainfall; Lowest Temperature 16

April showers were short on moisture at Escanaba this season, and even 3½ inches of snowfall on the 14th and 15th failed to bring precipitation records up to near normal. Records of the weather bureau show that precitation during the past month was less than half of the normal figure, totaling but 1.11 inches compared with normal of 2.23. April snowstorms, the first of which brought a deposit of dust particles, occurred on the fifth of the month and on the 15th. The latter, 2.5 inches of snow, brought the greatest 24-hour precipitation of the month, 0.47 inch.

A variety of temperatures also featured April weather, the thermometer running the gauntlet from a high of 60 on the 24th to a low of 16 on the 15th. The greatest daily range was on the tenth, from 54 degrees to 30. The mean temperature for the month was 37.4, just half a degree under normal.

There were eight clear days in April, according to the local weather bureau records. Seven days were partly cloudy, and 15 cloudy, but precipitation occurred only on eight different days. One thunderstorm came on the 26th.

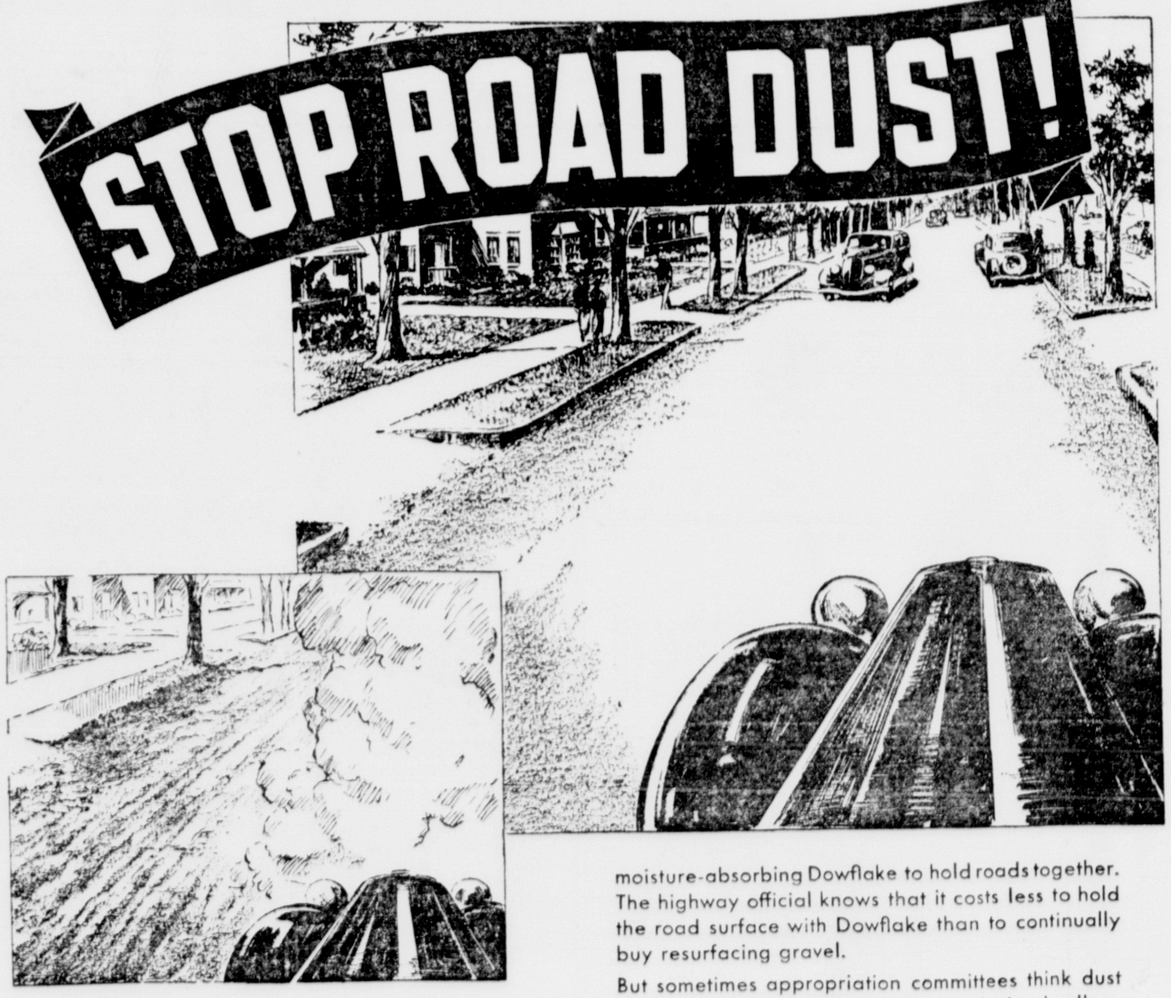
BALL PARK CAUSES SUIT

Bruce Crossing—Residents of this community are excited over a suit filed in circuit court on behalf of Stannard township, of which Bruce Crossing is a part, involving a dozen or more men and the baseball park completed here a year ago.

It is the contention of Stannard township in its suit that the baseball park, having been built with public funds, is public property and the group of men holding title to the property has no right to it. The ball park is now owned by a private association.

...OFFICIALS SAY...

STOP ROAD DUST!



NOBODY realizes the importance of controlling road dust as well as the highway official. He knows what a heartless task it is to try to keep a dry road in good condition. He knows it's a thankless, endless and impossible job, because dry, crumbling roads simply will not hold together. Every car grinds more dry material to dust, every breeze blows away a layer of road surface. So highway officials say, "Stop road dust." And they ask for moisture-absorbing Dowflake to hold roads together. The highway official knows that it costs less to hold the road surface with Dowflake than to continually buy resurfacing gravel.

But sometimes appropriation committees think dust prevention is just a luxury for roadside dwellers, not realizing how it saves the road.

So, if you are a roadside dweller, continually annoyed by dust, or if you have to drive on a dusty road, why not talk it over with your neighbors? And if you ask your highway officials to stop the dust with Dowflake, you will be aiding them in securing the material they all say is necessary. Write for our folder, "How to Control Dust."

Mischakoff's Collection of Violins Famous

Collection of famous violins is a hobby of Mischa Mischakoff, first violinist and concert master of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, who will appear in concert here Friday evening at William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium, under the direction of the National League of Community Concerts.

This talented young Russian has in his possession two Stradivarii of great value. One, the "Adam" valued at $45,000 was made in Cremona, Italy in the year 1714 by Antonio Stradivarius when this great master was seventy years old. It has a very interesting history, as it is probable it was one of twelve instruments ordered by Augustus, Elector of Saxony and King of Poland. It was recently acquired by Mischakoff and is one of his greatest possessions. Since coming into its possession, he has played it in all of his concerts.

This violin not only has been played by Mr. Mischakoff on the concert stage but has been the instrument heard by many listeners to the radio, as this gifted young musician has been the featured soloist on several occasions on the Realsilk "Silken Strings" program over the National Broadcasting system and soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The other instrument, really the first in his possession, is the "Booth" which was seized by the Bolshevists for the young violinist's use at a time when he, himself, was drafted as a soloist to give concerts for the Russian working people and their children. This violin was made by the great master, Stradivarius, in the year 1707 and was once the property of Count Lvov. It is now valued at $35,000.

Miss Doriss Wittich, talented concert pianist, will be heard as accompanist on this program. Educated in the Leipsic Conservatory of Music, Miss Wittich was pronounced by Arthur Nikisch, conductor of the famous Leipsic Symphony Orchestra, as one of the most promising talents to have come to his attention. She appeared in concerts throughout Germany and northern European countries before coming to America. For the past ten years she has been a resident of Chicago. In that time she has not only achieved fame as an outstanding pianist but in the more limited and difficult field of accompaniment. In this she has appeared on the program with many world famous artists.

shouldn't have said that. I guess I was just a little dumb. Don't worry. You're playing safe when you play with me. How long do you want me to wait there?"

"Well," she said slowly, "perhaps half an hour, or . . ."

"Make it an hour," he said. "You can't tell what might happen. I'll make it an hour and then before I leave I'll go ring the bell on every apartment in the building and tell them that I had a customer that went in the building some place and left without paying. And . . ."

"Oh, could you do that?" Millicent asked eagerly. "Could you do that at once? I mean, right now? Could you get into the building and cover those apartments—all of them?"

"Sure thing," he told her. "What's more, I'll leave my cab right in front of that house so if your friend should come out he'll know I am in looking for him."

"Oh, that would be just wonderful. Be very, very careful."

"How careful?" he asked.

"My friend seems to have . . . disappeared somewhere in that building."

The cab driver opened a pocket in the side of the door, pulled out a big wrench and slipped it up his sleeve.

"Ma'am," he said, "if they bop me one before I beat 'em to it with this wrench they're gonna be good."

She fumbled with the door catch and the driver reached out and opened the door.

"You're gonna get out here?" he asked.

"Yes. I don't want to go back and I want you to get started."

He gave her a smile, tipped his cap and slid the cab into motion. "On my way," he called.

She watched the tail light of the cab, her lips upturned in a half smile. She liked this man and sensed that she could depend upon him. Suddenly she snapped her eyes into focus upon a couple who had rounded the corner and started walking toward her.

A moment she stared with wide, incredulous eyes. Then, with an exclamation of quick dismay, she drew in a deep breath, preparatory to screaming to the cab driver but realized it was too late. The tail light slid around the corner even as she watched.

A dark doorway was at her elbow. Millicent jumped into that doorway, her hand at her throat, the pulses pounding in her ears.

Stories in STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

NAMELESS for 84 YEARS

GREAT BRITAIN was the first country to issue and use prepaid postage stamps, yet it wasn't until 84 years after the first issue that any of its stamps revealed the country of their origin.

From 1840 to 1924, British stamps were identified only by the busts of the empire's rulers. Then, in 1924, Great Britain issued a set in two values in connection with the British Empire Exhibition, and lettered the stamps so.

But notice that no British stamp yet has identified its country as directly as do the issues of other countries. Only Ireland, the dominions, and dependencies have their names on their stamps.

Theatres

DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM

The Delft theatre is offering a double feature program today and Thursday, "Vanessa," with Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery, and "Red Hot Tires," with Lyle Talbot and Mary Aster.

Romance forms the theme of "Vanessa, Her Love Story." Adapted from Hugh Walpole's best-selling novel, "Vanessa," fourth and last of his sagas of the spectacular Herries clan of the Cumberland region of England, it brings to the screen a notable cast in support of Miss Hayes and Montgomery. Among the players, besides Kruger, are such favorites as Lewis Stone, May Robson, Violet Kemble-Cooper, Henry Stephenson, Donald Crisp, Jessie Ralph, Agnes Anderson and many more.

Produced by David O. Selznick for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and directed by William K. Howard, the picture is being hailed as one of the romantic-dramatic sensations of the screen year.

"Red Hot Tires," First National's romance of the automobile racing romance, is based on a story by Tristam Tupper, the picture is a dynamic love drama that blossoms during thrilling auto races in which daredevil speedsters battle for racing honors, and two of them fight at the same time for the hand of a beautiful girl.

Breath-taking racing scenes were taken at the American Legion Ascot Speedway in Los Angeles in which a score of nationally famous drivers participate.

Lyle Talbot and Gavin Gordon enact the roles of racing demons, rivals on the track and rivals for the love of the beautiful daughter of an auto manufacturer.

Great Mothers

NANCY HANKS LINCOLN

A little girl, reared in poverty in the backwoods of Virginia, destined for a brief and none too happy life, was to grow up and bear a child whose career more than fulfilled all her highest dreams for him.

Born at Patterson's Creek, Virginia, in 1784, Nancy Hanks went at the age of twelve to live with her aunt and uncle, Thomas and Elizabeth Sparrow, in Mercer county, Virginia. She had a chance to attend school there, and made the most of it. In a community where many of the men could neither read nor write, she learned to do both.

She was skilled at needlework, too, and hired out to families in the neighborhood. Though she worked for wages she was never regarded as a servant, but sat at table with the household wherever she went. Report says that she was tall and handsome, with a frank open countenance and a voice pleasing both when she sang and when she talked.

A young apprentice named Thomas Lincoln was learning the trade of carpentry in the shop of Joseph Hanks, uncle to Nancy. The two young people were attracted to each other, and were married on June 12, 1806. Thomas took his bride home a tiny house fourteen feet square.

He could not write his own name until the ambitious Nancy taught him how. But his ambition could not keep pace with hers. Her disappointment at his easy-going ways was forgotten in her children: first, a little girl, Sarah; then, in 1809, the son known to history as Abraham Lincoln.

Between this child and this backwoods mother there was a powerful bond of sympathy. They understood each other without words. Perhaps she felt in him her own fierce hunger for learning, for a larger, richer world.

"Abe's mind and mine, what little I have, seem to run together," she is reported to have said once.

She was thirty-four years old, and Abraham Lincoln was nine, when she fell ill of an epidemic disease known in Southern Indiana (to which the family had migrated) as the milk sickness. In seven days, she was dead.

Abraham helped his father to make her coffin out of green lumber cut with a whipsaw, helped to bury her in a forest clearing. There was no ceremony. This troubled the boy until, several months later, they secured a wandering preacher to deliver a funeral sermon over the lonely grave.

His mother's influence stayed with him always, and was voiced in that most famous of filial epitaphs: "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

This is the second of a series of biographies of "Great Mothers," prepared by the Golden Rule Mother's Day Committee, of which Mrs. James Roosevelt is honorary chairman. The committee, which is sponsoring the nation-wide observance of Mother's Day "the Golden Rule Way" on Sunday, May 12, suggests the following paraphrase of the Golden Rule: "Whatsoever you would that others should do for your mother if she were in need, and whatsoever your mother would do for the needy if she had opportunity, do on Mother's Day for other mothers and children, victims of present-day economic maladjustments." An illustrated booklet of similar biographical sketches, poems, and tributes to mothers may be had for 10 cents for shipping charges, from the Golden Rule Mother's Day Committee, 60 East 42nd street, New York.

Miss Marble's Talk Enjoyable Program Feature

The fascinating study of color and line involved in interior decorating was presented in the interesting talk on that subject given Tuesday afternoon by Miss Charlotte Marble at the regular meeting of the First Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society.

Miss Marble, an expert in this line of artistic endeavor, gave a history of the development of interior decoration, discussed the various types, and presented sketches and samples of materials, in illustrating proper selection and effective choice of color and design.

A music feature of the program was presented by Albert Provencher, who played accordion solos of three selections, "Whispering," "Blue Moon," and "Some of These Days."

A tasty lunch was served members and guests following the program.

Mrs. C. E. Berger, chairman, Mrs. R. E. Cheney, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. E. G. Day and Mrs. Clarence Zerbel were members of the hostess committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Knaggs Honored At Golden Wedding Anniversary Celebration Sunday

A glorious occasion in the life of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Knaggs, pioneer residents of Germfask was observed on Sunday when the couple observed their golden wedding anniversary and made a repetition of their marriage vows at the Germfask Methodist church, in the presence of a large number of their neighbors and friends from Manistique and other sections of the county. Rev. Alvin Doten of Newberry officiated at the golden wedding services.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacDougal of Germfask and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryers, Sr., of McMillan. The Bryers are among the oldest friends of Mr. and Mrs. Knaggs as it was Mr. Bryers who brought them from McMillan to Manistique Lake when they first came to Germfask. The Bryers will be married 65 years in June of this year.

During the ceremony in the church there was a special program of music, Mrs. Harry Ericksen of Manistique sang "I Love You Truly," Miss Ethel Killhom of Grand Marais sang "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." A quartet composed of Miss Killhom, Mrs. Irving Hill, Ennis Fleming and Paul Robertson, all of Grand Marais, sang two numbers: "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet." During the final number the congregation in the church joined in the singing of the chorus.

The celebration in honor of the Knaggs was arranged by the ladies of the community club of Germfask who planned and carried out the details of the celebration. Following the church services there was a dinner in the basement of the Catholic church attended by about 100 persons. It was during the dinner that Atty. V. I. Hixson of Manistique made the presentation of a purse, the gift of friends in and near Germfask and a radio from friends of the couple in Manistique. In his presentation remarks, Atty. Hixson quoted a portion of a beautiful and appropriate poem by J. G. Holland.

For the dinner the dining hall in the church basement was beautifully decorated in spring colors with yellow predominating. Yellow streamers decked the hall and the tables were set with yellow daffodils and nasturtiums and yellow tapers. At the table where the honored couple sat there was a large two layer wedding cake surmounted by a large ornament in the shape of an arch under which were a miniature bride and groom could be seen.

Decorations in the church also carried out much the same motif with gold and yellow being the principal colors. From the center where a large gold bronze bell was hung, depended yellow streamers. The altar was banked with ferns and evergreens and set with daffodils, yellow nasturtiums and Easter lilies.

For the ceremony, Mrs. Knaggs wore a dress of gray silk crepe with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses. Mrs. MacDougal's dress was of dark blue crepe and her flowers were snapdragons and Mrs. Bryers was also gowned in blue, she carried daffodils.

Mr. Knaggs, who is 78 years of age, first came to what is now Germfask in the spring of 1880 and located himself a homestead. It was in his homesteader's log house that the first meeting was held organizing the village and giving it its peculiar name, composed of the first letters of the names of the eight original settlers of the place. After building his home he returned to Canada.

There on April 28, 1885, Mr. Knaggs and Ida Casinor were united in marriage at Oxford Center, Ontario. In May of 1885 the young bride and groom came to their home at Germfask, arriving on the eighth day of the month. They came by rail to McMillan, which was then the end of the railroad, and by Mr. Bryers' ox team to Manistique Lake. They crossed the lake in a row-boat and then had to walk three miles to the homestead.

The original little log house was soon replaced by a larger one which was destroyed by fire and replaced by the present home 36 years ago. Through their splendid character the couple have, in their long residence in the community gained a host of friends, as was shown by the large number who gathered to honor them on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. Knaggs has been honored by election to a number of township offices, having at various times served as supervisor, justice of the peace, constable, township highway overseer and at the present time is a member of the Schoolcraft county poor board.

The couple have five children, Mrs. Frank Jewell of Frankfort, Mich.; Vernon Knaggs of Marsfield, Ohio; Philip Knaggs of Lincoln Park, Mich.; Milton Knaggs of Lapeer, Mich.; and Mrs. Chester Tyrrell of Manistique. There are also fifteen grand children of the couple.

Among the guests at the golden wedding from outside of Germfask were: Philip Knaggs and daughter Elsie and Stanley Warden of Lincoln Park, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tyrrell of Manistique; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hill, Miss Ethel Killhom, Ennis Flemming and Paul Robertson of Grand Marais; Dr. and Mrs. Frank P. Bohn of Newberry; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bryers, Sr., of McMillan; Mrs. Bertha Hargrave and son, Fearman and Miss Jean Rose of Marquette and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wubbena of Seney.

Friends from Manistique who were in attendance included Judge Edmond Ashford, Miss Pessie Hamilton, Miss Laura Williams, Dr. A. R. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ericksen, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gorsche and Mr. and Mrs. V. I. Hixson.

BY FRANK MAC MILLEN
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 1 (AP)—Indifferent is the best word to describe the performance of stocks in today's session. Aside from a few specialties the general list was mildly reactionary.

Chrysler provided the outstanding corporate news of the day, but the intelligence did not arrive until after the close of trading. Directors of the corporation declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share, and revealed that first quarter profits had been equal to $2.12 a share, compared with 76 cents in the initial period of 1934. The stock, which was fairly active during the trading period, ended a shade lower at 37¾.

Silver shares were again reactionary as the New York price of the white metal declined ¾ of a cent an ounce at 75 cents. The treasury failed to make any change in the 77.57 cents figure paid for domestic silver. Such leaders in the group as American Smelting at 42 5-8, Cerro De Pasco at 58 3-8 and U. S. Smelting at 115 lost fractions to a point or so each.

In the specialty group which responded to better individual sentiment were some of the leading New York Tractions, as Wall Street buzzed with talk that the long-waited unification plans for private and municipal subways was nearer completion than the general public realized. Another specialty attracting some attention was American Bank Note, which at 24 1-8 was up over 2 points.

The weekly "Iron Age" report on the steel industry confirmed earlier estiamtes in setting production a point lower at 46 percent of capacity, but was moderately encouraging in noting that the important barometer of steel scrap prices was showing a steadier tone. The decline in operations was attributed in part to the labor trouble afflicting certain units of the General Motors group.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 1—Material setbacks of wheat prices late today resulted from heavy selling that was associated with reduction of trade estimates of prospective European wheat import requirements.

A leading British authority announced Europe would probably need to import only 404,000,000 bushels of wheat this season, whereas his original forecast was 448,000,000.

Wheat closed weak, 7-8 to 1 3-8 under yesterday's finish, May 97 5-8 to 97 3-4, corn 1-8 to 5-8 down, May 89 3-8, oats 5-8 to 1 cent off, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

Liquidation of May wheat contracts on the part of holders who did not wish to finance 1,527,000 bushels tendered here today in first-of-the-month settlements had considerable effect as a weight on the market. Monthly unofficial crop reports which indicated the 1935 domestic winter wheat yield would be 449,000,000 bushels, was also construed as bearish news.

As expected, deliveries of corn on May contracts today were next to nothing, only 15,000 bushels, and the price of May corn went up to 90 1-8 cents, as against 45 3-4 to 45 7-8 a year ago, showing values nearly doubled. Breaks in wheat prices, however, had a bearish effect afterward on corn as well as on oats. Provisions eased when grain markets turned weak.

(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 1 (AP)—Railroad issues hoisted distress signals on the bond market again today but other divisions paid little heed and ventured higher under a strong government department.

New record prices were established for half of the treasury's bonds before the rise attracted enough profit taking to arrest the movement. The subsequent recession was moderate and closing prices were from 2-32nds to 6-32nds net higher.

Although there were exceptions the general run of industrial and utility bonds were able to get up fractions, and in some cases a point or more. International Telephone 4½s came back another 2 points at 65½ and Postal Telegraph 5s ended ¾ better at 33. Others advancing included obligations of Armour & Co., Penn Dixie and Western Union. McCrory 5½s made an extreme advance of 5 points.

Disappointment over the failure of the supreme court to hand down a decision in the pension cases last Monday was believed partly responsible for the further unloading of railroad loans. New York, Ontario & Western refunding 4s lost 3 points at 47, Nickel Plate 5½s were 2½ lower at 63 and Pere Marquette 5s dipped 1½ to 83.

A fresh sinking spell in some of the private German bonds was the most prominent feature of the foreign division.

Price Changes On Curb Are Narrow

New York, May 1 (AP)—The curb market was generally hesitant today. Price changes, for the most part, were restricted, some additional realizing appeared in the general list, while selective demand was also apparent among various specialties.

A steady to firm tone prevailed among shares of Aluminum Co. of America, Creole Petroleum, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, Dow Chemical, Rubberoid, Texas Gulf Products and United Shoe Machinery. Recessions were registered by Newmont Mining, Sunshine Mining and International Petroleum.

No wonder! The greatest match race of the century is on . . . the contest between Dreadnaught, Hoople's stepping steed, and Kingoka, McNulty's nag.

Is Hoople nervous! Is the crowd wild! Is this gonna be a race! We'll soon know . . . 'cause somebody sprung the barrier, and they're off!

Millions of people are watching this race, but there's always room for more . . . and you don't have to fight the crowd. Read 'OUR BOARDING HOUSE,' on the comic page, and get in on the thrilling start!

TIGHTEN HOLD ON FIRST PLACE

Sad Sam Jones Driven Off Mound in Fifth Inning

Cleveland, May 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians strengthened their grasp on first place in the American league today by scalping the Chicago White Sox, 11 to 5.

The Tribesmen drove Sad Sam Jones from the mound in the fifth inning. He had yielded nine hits that produced eight Cleveland runs. Willis Hudlin went the route for the Indians, allowing eight hits in chalking up his third straight victory.

Earl Averill hit his first home run of the season for Cleveland and Hal Trosky knocked out his fourth. After scoring three runs in the third inning the Indians worked a double steal, Hale scoring for the fourth run of the frame.

Hudlin had one bad inning, the sixth, when the Sox combined four singles with a helpful wild throw by Hale to score four runs. In the ninth inning, Shea's grounder bounced over Berger's shoulder for a single. Appling scoring the fifth Chicago run.

BIG SIX STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Only the Athletics' two representatives on the Big Six, Jimmie Foxx and Bob Johnson, saw action in the select hitting group yesterday and the results of their efforts were a 'Mexican standoff.' Foxx got only one blow, his fifth homer of the season, in three times up. His average dropped three points to .388 and he yielded fourth place to the idle Rollie Hemsley. Johnson hit twice in four attempts, sending his last-place mark up nine points to .386. The standing:

Joe McCarthy Has Influenza Attack

New York, May 1. (AP)—A week old cold developed into influenza today and made Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, a bed-patient in his Manhattan hotel.

McCarthy caught cold last week while the Yankees were playing in Boston. Three physicians attended him early in the day when his condition was said to be serious.

He responded quickly to medicines and treatments and during the forenoon attendants said his pulse, temperature and respiration were normal. During his absence the Yankees are being commanded by Coach Arthur Fletcher.

BASEBALL FANS MEET FRIDAY

Parley Will Be Held at Delta Hotel at 7:30 O'Clock

Due to the fact that the Escanaba city council will conflict, the meeting of baseball fans, interested in the organization of a league, will be held at the Delta hotel at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening instead of at the city hall.

Considerable interest is being shown in the plans to form a hard ball circuit.

Various communities in Delta, Schoolcraft, Menominee and Alger counties are sending delegations to attend the meeting.

Washington Stops New York Yankees

New York, May 1 (AP)—Vito Tamulis' wildness caught up with him in the ninth inning today and Lefty Gomez fizzled badly as a relief hurler. As a result Washington scored three runs in the final frame to defeat the Yankees 7 to 6, ending New York's six game winning streak.

Tamulis was yanked after walking two in the ninth. Pat Malone retired one batsman then Gomez appeared to face the southpaw hitters, passed Joe Kuhel and yielded a single to Cliff Bolton and a double to Jake Powell which brought home the deciding runs.

BARK RIVER WINS

Bark River, Mich.—The Bark River ball club in its opening game of the season defeated the Ford River team on the local diamond Sunday 13 to 3. The game served as an excellent practice game for the local team, allowing Manager Bruce to use 15 players and to try out the pitching prospects.

Batteries: Ford River, Eckstrom, Aronsen and Eckstrom, Nelson; Bark River, Ellingsen, Ward, Courville and Dupie, Lessard.

DODGERS LOSE TO OLD RIVALS

Giants Break Jinx at Brooklyn With 8-3 Victory

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 1 (AP)—With great sighs of relief, but amid the deepest of Brooklyn gloom, the Giants finally crowned their jinx today, beating Casey Stengel's Dodgers 8 to 3.

Brooklyn's faithful did their part to attend—18,000 of them all told—filling the air with raucous cries, torn paper, and the smoke and booming of big cannon crackers, known locally as Brooklyn greeting cards. But it was no use. The Dodgers couldn't hit LeRoy (Bud) Parmelee nor anything much but home runs, the Giants hit the Brooklyn hurlers for just as many and lots of other things besides, and so the three game series was all evened at one each. The Giants were farther ahead in first place, and to their great joy will escape from here, possibly with all their arms and legs, still holding a half interest in the National League no matter who wins the third game tomorrow.

Bartell Is Hero

Brooklyn's domination on the Giants thus ended at three straight—the two games that finished off the Giants and pushed the Cardinals into the world series last fall, and the first game of the series yesterday.

The No. 1 public enemy of all who hold the Dodgers dear, a giant shortstop named Dick Bartell, was the particular fly in Brooklyn's soup today. They threw enough cannon crackers at him to blow his legs off, but they couldn't stop him. Bartell, who spiked Linus Frey badly last June, and Joe Judge the spring before, smacked Johnny Babich for a home run in the third, tripled off Frank Lamanske in the fourth, and made an amazing stop and throw off Al Lopez to force Joe Stripp at second and end the game after the Dodgers had scored two runs and were bruising Parmelee freely in the ninth.

REDS SMASHED BY DIZZY DEAN

Cardinals Win Odd Game Of Series by Score Of 5 to 2

Cincinnati, O., May 1 (AP)—Dizzy Dean held down the Reds until it was too late for them to catch up, and the Cardinals made it two out of three in the series be defeating Cincinnati 5 to 2 today.

Dizzy limited the Reds to three hits until the eighth, when he weakened enough to walk two in a row and grant a double, but pulled through in the ninth after Byrd tripled and Kampouris singled him in. Si Johnson was hit freely after Medwick homered in the fourth.

COLD WEATHER BALKS TIGERS

Detroit Will Use Rowe Against Blaeholder At St. Louis

St. Louis, May 1 (AP)—Cold weather forced postponement of today's third game in the Detroit-St. Louis series.

The teams will play the third contest of the scheduled four game series Thursday, weather permitting, making up the lost game in a double header later.

Schoolboy Rowe of Detroit and George Blaeholder of St. Louis, picked to pitch in today's contest, will be the selections for Thursday.

It will be the schoolboy's first chance to start since Detroit hit a winning stride. He has won one and lost two this season, but his failure was a part of the general slump in the Detroit attack, which got so bad a few days ago that the American league champs found themselves in the league cellar.

The Tigers have won three games in a row, one from Cleveland and two from the Brownies, and the hitting has been above par. The Tigers collected 29 blows in the two St. Louis games, and Mickey Cochrane expressed the conviction that Detroit was back in its 1934 stride.

The league champions come Friday to meet Boston in the first of a series of homestand against eastern teams. Their showing to date against western opposition that was supposed to be easy for them, is far below par, and the first series against the invaders from the east:—Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington—will go far toward determining the calibre of the 1935 Tigers.

Detroit, (AP)—Philip Pellento of Port Huron faces a 90-day sentence at the Milan detention farm. He was sentenced in federal court when he pleaded guilty to operating a still in his home.

DERBY HORSES READY TO GO

Whitney's Today Looms As Probable Post Time Favorite

Louisville, Ky., May 1. (AP)—The few chosen thoroughbreds considered worthy to start in the 61st running of the Kentucky Derby ended severe training periods today, leaving high hopes and heartbreaking disappointments among the owners of 110 original nominees announced two months ago. Only two days remain before the big race at Churchill Downs Saturday.

C. V. Whitney's brown colt, Today, loomed as probable post time favorite. He breezed a mile and one-eighth in 1:55 1-5, and then galloped out the remaining eighth of the mile and a quarter derby route in 2:08 4-5.

Trainer Jack Healey's only observation was, "Today's done everything we've asked of him and done it easily."

Another splendid colt, Joseph P. Widener's Chance Sun, beat a sad retreat back to Elmendorf farm in the Bluegrass, a victim of what was believed to be a ringbone. His owner said Chance Sun, the winter book favorite, would not start in the derby.

Boxthorn Looks Good

Col. E. R. Bradley's Boxthorn furnished what trained observers said was the standout effort of the pre-derby training grind at Churchill Downs, a spin today over the full derby route of a mile and a quarter in 2:06 4-5. "Derby Dick" Thompson, trainer for the Idle Hour farm appeared satisfied that Boxthorn measured up to Colonel Bradley's specifications for a derby winner; ability to stay in the running and cover the last quarter in 25 seconds. Boxthorn's last quarter of the workout was run in exactly that time. He did the mile in 1:41 4-5.

Plat Eye, from the Greentree trable of Mrs. Payne Whitney, also went the full derby route. Jockey Silvio Coucci had the leg on the Chesapeake winner as he breezed the ten furlongs in 2:10.

E. D. Shaffer's St. Bernard, regarded as a "dark horse," stepped a mile in 1:39 3-5, very handily, and galloped out the extra quarter in 2:08 1-5.

Mrs. Charles Hainsworth's Blackbirder was put down as a "sleeper," when under guidance of her husband jockey-trainer the Bostonian colt breezed ten furlongs in 2:08 handily.

Omaha, William Woodward's hope to repeat the 1930 victory of Gallant Fox, breezed a mile and an eighth in 1:55 4-5 and galloped out the additional furlong in 2:10. J. H. Loucheim's Morpluck rattled off a mile in 1:40 2-5 and pulled up a mile and an eighth in 1:54.

Jouett Shouse's Weston was reported ready for withdrawal, after disappointing trials this week.

Three second flight derby candidates joined the list of doubtful starters when they bowed to Col. E. R. Bradley's Bit of Sorrow, a non-eligible, in today's Barnsdale purse, a seven furlong race. Those to trail the Bradleyite were Hank MacTavis, which finished second, beaten by four lengths, Chanceview, which was third, and Blue Armor, a distant fifth.

Send-Dime Letters Come to Escanaba

Copies of the "National Prosperity Club" chain letter, by which, in theory, the recipient receives some $1,500 for the investment of a dime, have been received by Escanaba residents.

Five names and addresses head the letter, and the name at the bottom of the list is the sender of the letter. The recipient is instructed to cross off the name of the person at the top of the list and send that person a dime, then insert the recipient's own name at the bottom of the list and make five copies of the letter, sending them out to five friends. Eventually, the name at the bottom of the list is intended to reach the top if the chain doesn't break, and then the dimes start rolling in.

MAKE TOURISTS HAPPY

Sault Ste. Marie—Stanley D. Newton, addressing members of the Woman's Reading club Saturday afternoon, urged increased means of tourist entertainment in Michigan, pointing out that the Ca-Choo club is the only organization in the Upper Peninsula which actively interests tourists.

Illustrating with maps of Florida and Michigan, Mr. Newton drew comparisons between the two states. He told the group that on February 15 of this year, it was estimated that there were 15,000,000 tourists in Florida. The yearly tourist attendance is 635,000,000, which is twice as great as that of Michigan, and that Miami Beach alone accommodates 150,000,000. In area, Florida is twice as large as Michigan, he said.

PRIEST TRANSFERRED

Iron River—The Rev. Fr. Stanislaus Mikula, administrator of the St. Agnes church for almost two years, yesterday was assigned to the Catholic church at Atlantic Mine, Houghton county, and will leave Iron River about May 15.

Apparently no successor to the charge of the St. Agnes church had been chosen last night. Attempts to reach Bishop Nussbaum were unavailing.

Record Catch Made On Opening Day Of 1935 Fishing Season

The trout season was appropriately inaugurated yesterday by Herman Koch, 210 Stephenson avenue, an employe of the Escanaba Paper company, who caught a beautiful rainbow, measuring 25¼ inches and weighing three and one half pounds. The fish was larger than the one which won the prize given last year by the Wolverine Conservation club.

Koch and his party, consisting of R. L. Fredrickson, Billy Fredrickson, Ralph Anderson, and Elmer Sjoberg, made their catch in the Haymeadow creek of the Hiawatha National Forest.

Many Fishermen Trying Out Streams

Newberry, May 1—Midnight on April 30 found many local fishermen already in the woods ready to drop their lines into the trout waters at the first streak of dawn. Water conditions have not been so good for several years, officials report. The streams are high and dark but none of them are over their banks as was the case last year. The Two Heart, the Dawson, the upper waters of the Tahquamenon in Luce county all attracted their usual number of devotees. However officers are advising fast water in open or hardwood country, and that they keep away from swamps if good catches are expected. Tonight, when the reports begin to come in, it is believed that many will be found to have made fair catches, an unusual condition for the first day of the season.

Roads are also in unusually good condition for the season. All are passable with perhaps the exception of a few places where mud will be found in the hardwoods.

Camp Newberry CCC has completed the water improvement on the Teaspoon. The crew on that work has joined the camp and are all busy moving back to summer quarters on the banks of Perch lake at the Lake Superior state forest. About 20 men will be left in the Four Mile Corner camp to care for the place for the summer.

John Thomas has been selected as the name of the son born on April 30 to Trooper and Mrs. Jack Miller.

SERUM RUSHED TO CCC CAMP

Fast Trip Is Expected To Save Life of Enrollee

Munising, May 1—A record run of 45 minutes from Marquette to Munising was made when Troopers George Malner and William Irish, Marquette detachment of state police arrived here Saturday night with a precious cargo of serum which probably saved the life of Darrell Longstreet, CCC enrolle at Camp Cusino, who is seriously ill with pneumonia. Dr. H. H. Mican, camp surgeon stated yesterday, that Longstreet was taken sick Friday and on Saturday developments revealed that the boy had lobar pneumonia. Due to the fact that no serum could be obtained in Alger county, Dr. Mican phoned Captain O. E. Demaray, at the state police barracks in Marquette asking him if they could secure serum there. Captain Demaray gave the order to Troopers Malner and Irish. The serum was secured at Pendell's Drug Store in Marquette and the troopers left there at 8 o'clock and arrived in Munising at 8:45 o'clock.

Dr. Mican stated that the boy reacted very favorably to the serum. Longstreet was very sick and had a high temperature which the serum brought down and held him over until Lieut. Charles Aho, second in command at Camp Cusino went to Marquette on Sunday to obtain an additional supply of serum. By this time Longstreet had contracted double pneumonia and is still fighting for his life. Dr. Mican stated that both of the boys lower lungs are consolidated, hence the supply of oxygen is insufficient and so the necessity arose to supply him with oxygen Tuesday. With the cooperation of the E. C. W. of the camp Dr. Mican utilized the oxygen tank from the oxy-acetylene apparatus at the camp. They rigged up a method of providing Longstreet with a continuous flow of oxygen through a nasal catheter. This takes the place of an oxygen tent which cannot be brought here in time. At the present time with this system of oxygen Longstreet's color improved immediately and his chances for recovery are much greater. He is too sick to be moved from camp.

Dr. Mican stated that by these means they are hoping to hold the boy over to a successful crisis.

"Commanding officer, Lieut. I. T. Sanborn and the camp surgeon, Dr. H. M. Mican wish to take this opportunity to publicly commend the speed and efficiency of the state police in this emergency," Dr. Mican stated.

Mrs. Lennox Laid To Rest Wednesday

Munising, May 1—Final funeral rites for Mrs. William Lennox, beloved and well known resident of this city, were held today at 2:00 o'clock from the family home on Jewell street, with the Rev. Dr. Glen A. Blackburn, St. John's Episcopal church officiating.

Mrs. Lennox's untimely death removes from this city an outstanding citizen. She was a woman who was always kind, generous, and sympathetic and her passing is a distinct loss to her many friends and acquaintances. Her ability and readiness to cooperate in every way possible in fraternal and social affairs is well demonstrated in the fact that she was reelected to the office of treasurer of the St. John's Episcopal Guild for fifteen years, holding the above office until the time of her death. Beyond this, and in addition to her high standing as a citizen, she was a loyal friend and long will be remembered for her joviality and rare sense of humor.

Pallbearers who bore the body to its final resting place were William Joslin, Oscar E. Ole, John N. Korpela, William Duffett, William Jackson and D. R. Potter.

Interment was in the Maple Grove cemetery.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.
